Trading Standards

Hampshire Trading Standards Service is recruiting three dynamic officers for a new Investigations Team. You'll assess information from various sources, implement interventions for legal compliance, and interact professionally with businesses and the public. Experience in criminal investigations is desirable.

Results-focused, you'll use problem-solving skills to provide legislative advice, conduct inspections, and enforce compliance. With relevant qualifications or experience, you'll positively impact Hampshire's residents and businesses and have opportunities for professional development.

If you have a 'can do' attitude and share our passion for consumer protection, we'd love to hear from you.

We offer:

- Supportive, collaborative work environment
- Hybrid working, with an office base in Winchester
- Flexible, family-friendly working patterns
- Generous leave, sick pay, and pension contributions
- Development opportunities, and valued support from a wider team
